For many Americans, Thanksgiving is a very important holiday. They celebrate it on the fourth Thursday in November every year. On that day, they have a big yummy meal with their family and friends. The meal usually has turkey, potatoes, stuffing, and pumpkin pie. Before Americans start to eat, they do something special. They give thanks for all the good things in their lives. Now, many British people also celebrate Thanksgiving. They don't call it that, though. Instead, they call it Britsgiving.

How did Thanksgiving become a big deal in the UK? One reason is all the Americans there. Some are married to British people. They keep the traditions alive with their families. Others are away from home for work or study. They teach the traditions to their foreign friends. The British people are another reason. Some fell in love with Thanksgiving in the US. Others find out about it on social media. They want the same feeling at home. So, they prepare their own Thanksgiving meals. For them, it's now Britsgiving!

8. What do we learn from the passage?
